

Patricia Bailey

H.B. 5326

Physician-Assisted Suicide Bill

People who are terminally ill, should not be forced to suffer longer than they wish. They should not be forced to please someone else's wishes or religion – one they do not believe. It's their life, they should get to choose how to end it. Other states have end of life laws with good and proper safeguards. Connecticut should have it too.

Patricia Bailey

Sherman, CT